

(COAST RECORD) A FAITHLESS WIFE.

Woes of Nicholas Faedroff, a Russian.

His Spouse and a So-called Count Land Him in a Prison.

Burglary at Ontario—Electric Lights Taken Out of Ventura—An Important Decision on Arizona's Indebtedness.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Nicholas Faedroff, after spending several months in a Russian prison, has secured his release. He is at once left for the United States, and arrived in San Francisco yesterday. He spent last night in the Seventeenth-street police-station. All of his hardship, he claims, has been brought upon him by a faithless wife.

About 8 o'clock the injured husband, the wife, and Alexon Rabharder, who is charged with being too friendly with Mrs. Faedroff, met on Guerrero street and engaged a scene which aroused the whole neighborhood. The story told by Faedroff is interesting. He and his wife were Baptist missionaries in Russia, both being American citizens. Mrs. Faedroff was born in this country, while the husband obtained citizenship through the courts. For a time they were doing missionary work in Alaska. About eighteen months ago they proceeded to Los Angeles.

While in the latter city they were joined by Alexon Rabharder, said to be a Russian count. Rabharder claims that while he was at the World's Fair looking after the Russian exhibit he had been converted to the Buddhist faith, and it was his desire to make the peasants on his father's vast estate in "Little Russia" evangelized. He proposed to Faedroff that he proceed to Russia, ostensibly to build a mill for Rabharder, but really for the purpose of teaching the gospel to the tenants on the estate. Faedroff had escaped from Siberia, where he had been sent on account of his religious belief, to come to this country. As he has become a citizen of the United States he thought he might return in perfect safety. He and his wife gave the same reasons for their separation, and finally accepted the proposal. Last summer, accompanied by Rabharder, they departed for Russia by way of New York. Shortly after arrival there, Faedroff alleges that he had been thrown into prison as an escapee from Siberia, and there left the country for America, taking Mrs. Faedroff with him. After months of mental torture, he succeeded a few months ago in obtaining his liberty.

A search for his wife was at once begun. He traced her to London, only to find that she had left for New York. He followed on the first steamer, and for weeks searched the great city. He proceeded to Chicago, and there he learned that she and Rabharder had gone to San Francisco. The next train for the West carried the angry husband, for he had learned sufficient in Chicago to convince him that he had been terribly deceived. When he reached San Francisco, on the evening he started out to find his wife at the address given him, on Twenty-third street. He found her, and so far as can be learned, she agreed to go with him wherever he might wish. Accompanied by his wife, Faedroff went to No. 637 Twenty-third street, where he arranged a room and sent for his son. Faedroff and his wife spent a short time in the room and then departed, but not together, she agreeing to return at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Faedroff, while strolling about, had met a man in a suit on Guerrero street talking in a very confidential manner, and the sight maddened him. Grasping loose stones lying on the street, he began to bombard the big crowd in a lively manner. The crowd return the compliment, but when his son, Faedroff, drew his pistol in flight and did so, he was seen in the neighborhood since.

After Rabharder had fled, Faedroff grasped his wife by the arm with one hand and with the other took a firm hold on her. In this struggle he dragged her to the room he secured. The woman's screams finally had the desired effect, and a policeman was summoned. He took charge of the husband, while the wife defected with friends. The woman became hysterical, and in her talk stated that she did not wish to live with her husband, and had commenced divorce proceedings three months ago. She was overcome with the excitement, and, after going a short distance, fell unconscious to the sidewalk. She was carried to a grocery store, and soon restored to consciousness. With two large valises and an umbrella, was taken aboard and driven to the central station.

What the outcome of the present trouble will be cannot safely be predicted. Faedroff firmly believes that his second arrest will be the signal for his wife to get rid of him, and Mrs. Faedroff's efforts to get a divorce makes it appear that she was not as grieved over the separation as a great many people believed.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—Governor Markham today appointed the following delegates to the Transmississippi Congress which will convene at St. Louis on November 26: E. W. Davis, of Santa Rosa; A. P. Roache, of Watsonville; George A. Pippy, of San Francisco; William Johnston, of Courtland; David Lubin, of Sacramento; William Niles, of Los Angeles; E. S. Heiler, of San Francisco.

INSTRUCTING DELEGATES.
SEATTLE, (Wash.) Nov. 12.—The Chamber of Commerce today agreed in instructions to delegates to the Transmississippi Congress, to be held at St. Louis November 26. Among other things delegations will be instructed to oppose the free coinage of silver.

ARIZONA BONDS.
Three Fourths of a Million Dollars Indebtedness Invalidated.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.
PHOENIX (Ariz.), Nov. 12.—The Republican will publish tomorrow the substance of a recent decision by the Supreme Court of the United States, which invalidates the territorial indebtedness amounting to $750,000. The decision was in the case of Charles Edward Lewis vs. Pima county, to enforce the collection of 2250 coupons attached to 150 bonds issued by the defendant county in 1882, under an act of the Legislature of that year, directing the Board of Supervisors to issue bonds to the amount of $200,000 in favor of the Arizona Narrow Gauge Railroad. The Legislature construed its authority to enact such law in spite of the restriction which confined its appropriation of public money to "the necessary administration of its internal affairs."

Suit was brought against the county three years ago, and a verdict was rendered for the defendant, the trial judge, Judge Shanahan holding that the legislation creating bonds was unconstitutional and contrary to the Harrison act. The United States Supreme Court takes no account of this view, but declares that the Legislature was restricted by a clause which confines it to this species of legislation only in favor of improvements which facilitate the administration of internal affairs.

The decision is given in the following language: "We are compelled to hold that the bonds in question create no obligation against the county which a court of law can enforce." This decision affects an issue of $200,000 by Maricopa county, the bonds of the Maricopa and Phoenix Railroad and an amount of $250,000 by Yavapai county in favor of the new defendant Prescott and Arizona Central.

THE IVANHOE.

Revenue Cutter Richard Bush is to Make Another Search.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 12.—A telegram was received today by J. D. Hoge Jr., one of the proprietors of the Post-Intelligencer, from the Treasury Department, stating that the revenue cutter Richard Rush has been ordered from San Francisco to make a cruise along the coast of Vancouver Island and among the islands, and make a thorough search for wreckage or survivors from the missing ship Ivanhoe, on which Hon. Frederick J. Grant, editor of the Post-Intelligencer, was passenger.

Capt. Paul, master of the schooner Dutard, who recently reported having seen a ship in distress off Cape Flattery a few days after the Ivanhoe sailed, said he was certain there was no person on board, and if it was the Ivanhoe she had been deserted. In that case the crew and passengers had either been picked up by an outward bound ship or been driven on the coast of Vancouver Island. In the latter case Rush would be likely to pick them up.

THAT WATER SUPPLY.

The City Council of San Diego considers the Question.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 13.—The water question is agitating the minds of the city fathers, who feel it incumbent to follow the wishes of the citizens by taking steps to provide a supply and distributing system owned by the city.

TODAY E. S. Babcock, promoter of the McLevane system, invited the City Council and officers to use a special train to the Kit Carson and invited the members according to irrigation. The Council will probably accept the invitation. The settlement of the water matter is of vital interest to all San Diego county.

THE MINERS.

A Meeting of Their State Association on the Tapis.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—It is expected that about four hundred miners will attend the meeting of the State Miners' Association that is to be held in this city next week. The merchants are preparing to receive the visitors and everything possible is being done to make the visitors' stay a pleasant one.

Every phase of the present mining troubles will be discussed, and it is not unlikely that a memorial asking for the restoration of hydraulic mining will be sent to Congress.

Assignment at Spokane.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 13.—J. A. Loomis & Co., general merchants of Loomis, Okanogan county, have assigned their business to Frank Richardson.

The firm is one of the largest in that section. No statement of assets and liabilities have been made, but friends of the firm here believe that it will pay in full and leave a handsome residue.

A Tax Collector's Loss.

ONTARIO, Nov. 13.—The residence of County Tax Collector Kendall was burglarized last morning while the family were out driving. A gold watch and valuable silverware were taken. This is the third burglary in a week in this place.

Will Get Along in the Dark.

VENTURA, Nov. 13.—Owing to a controversy between the City Council and the Electric Light company regarding the price for street-lights, the company is taking down its lamps. The city will be in darkness tonight.

The Sacramento Strikers.

WOODLAND, Nov. 13.—In the Hatch trial today, six jurors were obtained. Both sides are hopeful of completing the jury tomorrow.

SIX TERRIBLE DAYS.

The Crew of Schooner Kate Richards Battle with Death.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

TOMPKINSVILLE (S. I.) Nov. 13.—Pilot boat No. 14 of the Sandy Hook fleet has arrived here with the crew of the wrecked schooner Kate Richards. The survivors of the wreck were in a terrible condition when rescued, having suffered from exposure. The Kate Richards, Capt. John G. James, sailed from Philadelphia coal laden, Friday, November 2, for Providence, R. I. She had a crew of five men and a cook. The young wife of Mate John Crossman was also on board.

When the schooner left Delaware it was the intention of Capt. James to enter the Delaware and go to his destination, the port of Hell Gate. On Saturday, as the wind was fair, the schooner was heading to sea for the outside course. On Sunday night a storm was encountered. A tremendous sea was running, and the little craft was almost swamped. She sprang a leak and an anchor was kept out to stem the waves. Six terrible days were spent by the crew in their efforts to keep the schooner decks above water, and at 4 o'clock Saturday, November 10, hove in sight and took the almost exhausted sailors off.

An hour later the Kate Richards went down. The survivors were cared for here and some of them have gone to Philadelphia.

A POISONED EYE.

A Physician Impregnated with Diphteria in an Odd Way.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CINCINNATI (Ohio) Nov. 13.—Dr. Emanuel Schwab of Walnut Hills is suffering with a peculiar affliction of the eyes resulting from a peculiar cause. The physician has among his patients one who is suffering with diphteria. Dr. Schwab while visiting his patient, was in the act of examining the throat when the sufferer suddenly coughed and as he did so a piece of the mucus from the throat struck the physician in the eye.

In case Dr. Parkhurst does accept the offer of a vacation made by the church session his pupil will probably be filled part of the time by well-known ministers of the city, and part of the time by the Rev. J. H. Denison, the assistant pastor of the church. Rev. Denison is a Williams College man and a grandson of Mark Hopkins, the famous old president of Williams.

THE MATCH INDUSTRY.

Largest Works in the World to go Up at Liverpool.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

AKRON, (O.) Nov. 13.—O. C. Barber, president of the Diamond Match Co., is about to leave for Liverpool, England, where the company will erect the largest match-works in the world. He asserts that this factory which he will see started is intended to compete with the foreign trade and the product will not be imported. When he was asked in regard to the new company which he has organized he engaged in a discussion with the Diamond Company, and the two companies engaged in a joint venture.

The match works in the world, he asserted, is a sufferer from rheumatism, and received his guests while reclining in his easy chair. He made a brief speech, chiefly of a reminiscient character.

"The Old Roman."

COLUMBUS (Ohio) Nov. 13.—Allan G. Tracy, 70, the oldest and largest birth day today, and tonight the Thurman Club called on him in a body. The Judge is a sufferer from rheumatism, and received his guests while reclining in his easy chair.

He made a brief speech, chiefly of a reminiscient character.

ALEXANDER III.

THE DEAD CAZAR'S REMAINS AT ST. PETERSBURG.

Impressive Parade and Services—Nicholas II and Foreign Guests Follow the Hearse.

Multitudes Bow.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—(By Atlantic Cable). The funeral train with the body of the late Czar on board arrived at the Nicholas station last night and was shunted upon a side track until this morning. Shortly after 10 a.m. the imperial train re-entered the railroad station, the body was transferred to the hearse in waiting and was conveyed to the cathedral through the densely-crowded streets guarded by thousands of troops.

Every foot of ground along the route was occupied with spectators. The greatest masses of people were gathered in front of the Kasan, St. Isaac's and other churches, in front of which previous to the starting of the procession the clergy stood in their state robes. Three salvoes of artillery announced the arrival of the procession at exactly 11 o'clock. The route followed by the cortage was six miles long.

The Czar's Cossack bodyguard headed the procession and was followed by other detachments of cavalry. Then came fifty-one standards, each escorted by officers. The first flag and the last flag bore the imperial arms. Next came the horse of the dead Czar and a man in gilt armor holding the sword of state and mounted upon a splendidly caparisoned charger led by two grooms in the state livery.

Following this followed a second standard, each armed carrying a mace. He preceded a number of high officials, who bore a mourning standard of black silk. Behind the standard was a retinue of officials bearing the standards of the various Russian provinces.

The remainder of the procession until the end of the twelve sections was the escorting of high imperial and provincial functionaries with their staffs of officers and numerous other officers bearing different banners. The rear of the twelfth section was brought up by another detachment of officials who bore on velvet cushions the Czar's medals, orders and the Imperial insignia.

The thirteenth and most important section of the procession and the one for which everybody was waiting was a second standard, each escorted by officers.

FOR MAYOR—HENRY T. HAZARD

As a set-off to the corruption which is so prevalent in the political affairs of large American cities, it is encouraging to note that the larger and better class of voters manifest a growing inclination to sink party differences in municipal affairs and stand together for the public good. Manifestly this is the only manner in which they can possibly hope to accomplish anything in the line of reform. The boddies of both political parties have long since found out that it was foolish for them to divide up their strength and fight against each other. They now unite and divide the spoils. If reputable citizens wish to prevent them from obtaining possession of the spoils, they also must unite, and this is what they are doing in all the large cities of the country. The success of the recent movement in this direction in the city of New York was not only encouraging, but remarkable. To a certain extent, the same thing was done in San Francisco, while the solid citizens of Chicago are preparing to follow in the steps of the New Yorkers. So general has this feeling of independence in municipal affairs become that the man who expresses his intention of voting his party ticket straight, whatever his character may be, is now regarded with a considerable amount of astonishment, much as we look upon the remains of some extinct species of animal.

It is to be expected that this spirit of independence would be particularly noticeable in a city like Los Angeles, whose inhabitants have a reputation throughout the United States for their intelligence and culture. That the voters of Los Angeles will, to a great extent, sink their political predilections in choosing city officials at the coming election, we take to be a foregone conclusion. This is right, but the next thing is that they should choose not only independently, but wisely. As we have previously pointed out, the next two years will undoubtedly be a most important era in the history of Los Angeles. The city is just taking a good start in its third stage of growth. We have had the period before the boom, we have had the boom period, with its lightning changes, and now it is very evident that we are on the eve—or rather we might say in the dawn—of a third stage of progress, which, within a few years, will double the importance of Los Angeles as a commercial and manufacturing center. There will be extensive improvements to make, involving the expenditure of large amounts of public money. There will be a beginning to make in the laying out of a public park that shall be worthy of the City of the Angels. There will be preparatory steps to be taken for the acquisition of a municipal water system, which of itself is a most important matter, requiring the exercise of much judgment, as well as public spirit. Such being the case, it is unnecessary to call the attention of the intelligent citizens to the great importance of placing only thoroughly competent and well-tried men in responsible municipal positions.

The highest office in the gift of the citizens is the mayoralty. At the coming election there promises to be what the French call an "embarrassment of choice" for the voters in this direction. At the present time there are no less than four aspirants for the position before the people. These are Rader, the regular Republican nominee; Hazard, Independent Republican; Ryan, the regular Democratic nominee, and Schnabel, People's party.

The Populist candidate is practically out of the race, as a winning possibility, and the contest is therefore narrowed down to the three gentlemen first named. It has been somewhat simplified by the withdrawal of ex-Mayor Workman, which took place yesterday, at the gentelman and his advisers had thoroughly canvassed the situation.

The Times has already announced that it favors the election of Henry T. Hazard. Between now and the day of election we shall give our readers a number of what we think are good and sufficient reasons why they should vote for him, and not for either of the regular party nominees. Against Mr. Rader it is urged, on every hand, to judge from the numerous protests that are heard daily, that he is an unknown quantity. The circle of his acquaintances in the city, of which he desires to be come the municipal head, is very limited. It does not seem the correct thing to place at the head of a large and important city a man who is unknown, even by name, to a great majority of the voters, however worthy a man he might be.

Mr. Rader, we say, is an unknown quantity. He might make a very good Mayor. He might show himself to be independent and fearless in checking extravagance and corruption, as far as it lies in his power, and he might take a broad and liberal view of all public questions that come before him. But then, again, he might not. For reasons that we have referred to above, this is not a time when the citizens of Los Angeles can afford to take any chances. We are just about to cross not only one, but several streams, and as we all know this is a very bad time in which to swap horses, mid-stream. It appears to us that the small acquaintance which the mass of the voters of Los Angeles have with the Republican nominee would very likely result in the election of his Democratic opponent, and this, for reasons that will hereafter be touched upon, would be a still greater danger to the city and to the cause of good municipal government.

Henry T. Hazard is known to every man, woman and child in Los Angeles city, who has been here any length of time. He is not only known, but he is liked, and by people of all classes, of all shades of political and religious faith. He has had much to do with the upbuilding of the city, in the future of which he has such implicit confidence. He has seldom failed to be at the front whenever a matter of public interest has come up for discussion. He is a man of broad and liberal views, who is quick to see the plain, common-sense side of a question, and to act upon it. Above all this, he would not be a new experiment in the position to which he now aspires, having already filled that position with honor to himself and satisfaction to the citizens for two terms. We know that if elected he would be the head of the municipality, in fact as well as in name. He would not wink at extravagance for the sake of standing on good terms with public officials, but would set his foot down firmly, as he did time and time again when he was Mayor before. Men who desire to get fat jobs at the expense of the city, without giving a proper equivalent, and men who believe that laws are only made to be avoided, will not vote for Henry T. Hazard, but that is a good reason why good citizens should do so.

Without reserve or qualification, we recommend them to do so.

CLEVELAND'S COMMISSIONERS.

President Cleveland's Pullman Investigating Commission says, in effect, that organizations of employers are unlawful and unwarranted, but that organizations of employees are to be commended and encouraged. This position is absolutely untenable and illogical, for the reason that organizations of capital and of labor are essentially alike in principle. Employers organize to regulate the wages which they will pay, the hours of labor, and to protect their interests generally, in their relations toward employees. Laborers organize to regulate the wages for which they will work, the hours of labor, and to protect their interests, especially as against employers. If organizations of employers are unlawful and without warrant, it follows logically that organizations of employees are likewise so, for all classes are equal before the law.

As the Angeleno reads of the blizzards, windstorms, sleet and pinching cold, which have already begun to afflict the residents of the Eastern States, he should appreciate more keenly the climatic blessings which he enjoys. It is doubtful if there is in any section of the world a better all-the-year-round climate than that of Southern California.

The railway managers have replied to the report of Mr. Cleveland's commissioners, denying point blank many of the allegations contained therein, and very effectually demolishing the sophistical fabric of that extraordinary document. The managers' reply appears elsewhere in this morning's issue of the Times.

In Alabama, the Kolbites are discussing the expediency of changing the name of their party. It wouldn't be a bad idea for the Democratic party to follow suit. The odium now resting upon the latter is a serious handicap.

Max O'Rell epigrammatically says that "Americans are suffering from bile and billions." Max may be more or less correct on the bile question, but there are lots of us who are not greatly troubled with the billions.

Henry Watterson prophesied better than he knew. The Democracy has just marched through the slaughterhouse, and the open grave yaws just beyond. Let the procession move on.

One man has been discovered, by the Boston Herald, who has joined the Democratic party this year. It is believed that he is planning a campaign among the dime museums.

The Rev. Dr. Parkhurst's congregation have offered him a vacation with entire rest from his pastoral duties until January 1. Dr. Parkhurst has well earned his vacation.

TALK WITH AN A.P.A.

The Organization from a Political Standpoint.

The Part Taken in the Recent Election and its Future Pro-grammes.

The Order Will be a Factor in the Coming Municipal Canvass—How it Will do its Work.

A reporter of the Times yesterday interviewed a prominent A.P.A. of this city, with the following result:

Reporter: Would you object to giving The Times an interview on the situation from the standpoint of your order? Answer: Not at all. We have but little to conceal, and we are very jubilant. There is a mistaken idea that our work is done in the dark. As a matter of fact we work pretty openly, and the public can know if it wishes to, about what we are aiming at, our programme and our methods.

Q. But did you not last secret election circulate secret orders? A. Not at all. We gave all our campaign circulars, literature, tickets, etc., the widest possible circulation. There was nothing to conceal, and the purpose of them would have been defeated by secrecy. They were given to the public generally, I know, that they were frequently referred to in the press as secret circulars; but that was a mistake. As a matter of fact, there is scarcely anything said or done in our papers that makes concealment necessary, excepting possibly, the deliberations of our higher orders and terminals. As far as our councils are concerned, we could throw our doors wide open and admit the public without harm to us.

Q. Then why do you not do so? A. Well; in the first place we are not permitted to do so by our highest authorities; and, secondly, we are bound to be for our best interests when the order was started, and thirdly, while publicity would not harm us, we do not see that it would benefit us either.

Q. But would you care to make your secret work and cause public? A. There is nothing in our order or work that must of necessity be kept secret, but the sake of safety; but there is to the outside world, always, a certain fascination connected with secrecy, and that is a potent factor for good to us as well as to all secret organizations.

Q. You have not your work and all of your secrets been exposed? A. No, I have never seen anything in print (and I have been printed on the subject) that exposes our work as it is now done, or our secrets as they now stand. The Roman church and members have paid dearly for a lot of information, many lives lost, that was of no possible benefit after they had bought it. Even though what they have published broadcast as our work, secrets and methods had been correct, such publication only advertises us, and the very thing that would attract many sturdy Protestants to us. We have always delighted at these alleged exposures; they do us good and swell our ranks. Even the attack of Father Hickey was of great benefit to us. We never had such success as we had during his crusade.

Q. Have you not spies in your councils? You are not safe, are you? What harm does it do us? Let them spy; it is rather costly work for the Romans, as those creatures usually have to be paid well and they learn nothing but our routine work. The Romans thought at one time that they would cause confusion and consternation in our ranks, and circulating a little book containing about 500 of our names (as it was erroneously supposed to do) but, bless you, it cost them thousands of dollars, much risk and work and did not cause a ripple on our surface. It was intended for a boycott book, in fact, that tried to boycott some of us, but they made a dismal failure of it. Where a tradesman lost Roman Catholic custom it was more than compensated for by increased trade from members of our order. They (the Romans) even went banks, public offices, warehouses, wholesale houses (we knew everything they did as we knew now everything they did and say) and demanded the discharge of A.P.A.'s, but in no case did they succeed and in many cases they went to A.P.A.'s (unknown to them, of course), and asked for such discharges as we had during his crusade.

Q. Have the A.P.A.s ever resorted to the boycott against the Catholics? A. Yes, in instances here, but only as retaliatory measure and never as the aggressive of the Romans; but if we ever conclude to resort to a systematic boycott we will surpass our teachers, I assure you. We do not believe in the boycott and we have only practiced it rarely, but we can beat our enemies even at that time we considered to adopt it as a necessity of the situation.

Q. But do you not consider it boycotting to discriminate against the Catholics for public offices? A. Not at all. A condition confronts us that makes it absolutely necessary has been forced upon us by the great danger that threatens our country through the attempts of the Romans to absorb all of our offices, to unite church and state and to divide our school funds for sectarian purposes. Now, we are determined to do all we can to prevent Romans from being elected to positions where they can assist in perfecting their schemes and, however humble the public office may be, the incumbent, if a Roman, is more potent for good to the plans of his church than if he were a shrewd citizen. The Roman is first a Romanist and then a citizen. Of course they deny this, but that deny everything that might militate against them. They have a general denial always ready. They deny, positively, that there has ever been any persecution of Protestants by their church. They deny that the terrible Inquisition never existed, excepting as a political agent. They affirm that no man, woman or child was ever tortured or burned on account of his or her religious sympathies. They affirm that the Roman church has ever been the champion of learning, the encourager and promoter of intelligence and research; and they affirm this in the face of the dense ignorance existing in Spain, Southern Ireland, Austria and Italy where they have controlled the state and society for tens of centuries. The fact is that they trust truth and facts ruthlessly under foot and sink history in the face without the least hesitation and with the gravest mien.

Q. How about the recent election? Do you consider that your order was effective in this State? Yes, not only in this State, but throughout the country generally. Senator Faulkner, of Georgia, in attributing the recent great Republican victory largely to our work. We have now in the United States, perhaps 2,500,000 members, all voters, (increasing rapidly, too) and it would be a little odd if that vast number did not make itself seriously felt. The fact is, the child has grown to a robust man, and he is cutting a wide swath now. Our organization appears to me to have been the result of a divine inspiration and we came none too early to meet and repel the encroachments of the owl and gow.

Q. How about your successes in this State and county. A. Well, I can only

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

City Council Busy With Charter Revision.

Chief Glass Makes a Statement to the Police Commissioners.

He Says the City Jail is in Dreadful Condition and Needs Attention.

At the Courthouse—The Craig Trial.

The Police Commission acted on a number of saloon and restaurant liquor licenses yesterday, as well as on several applications for appointments as special policemen. Chief Glass made a strong statement about the bad condition of the Old Jail. The Council passed an ordinance prohibiting the operation of any toboggan-slide in the city, except on permit of the Council. A good deal of time was devoted to the revision of the city charter.

AT THE CITY HALL.

The City Charter.

COUNCIL BUSY WITH THE FINAL REVISION.

The City Council held an adjourned meeting yesterday morning with a full attendance.

The ordinance, prohibiting the operation of a toboggan-slide within the city except upon permit issued by the Council, as ordered printed was placed on its passage and was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, Messrs. Munson, Nickell, Pease, Rhodes and Teed (5) nays, Messrs. Campbell, Innes, Smith and Strohm (4).

A new ordinance ordering the widening of a certain portion of Buena Vista street, and appointing Charles Parsons one of the commissioners therefor, instead of Alfred Solano, was adopted.

The City Engineer presented a map of Adobe street, between College and Bernard streets, showing the lines for an eighty-foot street, that being the original width of the street. The map was referred to the Board of Public Works.

The master of the appeal from the decision of the Street Superintendent in accepting work done on New Fourth street, between Lucas avenue and Fifth street, by D. F. Donegan was reported.

Mr. Donegan had put the proper amount of gravel on the street. The motion was accepted.

The City Attorney presented a report in reference to a stipulation in the case of W. T. Spillman, which report was, on motion, approved. The report said:

"In the case of W. T. Spillman vs. the City of Los Angeles, which was brought some time ago to quiet title against the City, the parties agreed to stipulate that the undeveloped water lying in the land in question and has the right to develop and use the same, subject to the qualifications hereinbefore mentioned."

"Second—but that the City of Los Angeles is the owner of all the waters of the Los Angeles River and also of all water forming a part of its tributaries, underground, undeveloped waters lying therein, except to such of said waters as form a part of its sources, feeders, springs, underground flow and subterranean streams of the Los Angeles River, or are tributaries thereto; and that as to all of such waters the City of Los Angeles is the sole owner."

"Fourth—that the right of said Spillman to develop and use the underground, undeveloped waters upon said land shall be limited to the right to develop and use only a much of said waters as do not constitute a part of the waters of feeders, springs, underground flow and subterranean streams of the Los Angeles River, or are tributaries thereto; and that as to all of such waters the City of Los Angeles is the sole owner."

"The stipulation has been agreed to by all parties to the contract at all points. It will be recited that the court at the trial of the cause of action I do not know that the city could obtain anything in the way of a judgment which it does not obtain by this stipulation, and in view of the uncertainty of the result of the trial the evidence in which would be a matter of conjecture, as the waters in question have never been developed. I believe it for the best interests of the city to enter into this stipulation, and I advise that the same be done."

After a brief recess the matter of character was taken up, and there were present at the time besides members of the Council a number of gentlemen representing the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade, Merchants' Association and Citizens' League. The clerk proceeded to read the proposed revised form of the charter as drafted in accordance with the ideas of the gentlemen who had participated in the discussion and further filled out by the City Attorney so as to be in proper legal form.

There was a somewhat animated discussion over the question of inserting a provision permitting the Council and other official bodies of the city to have executive sessions.

President Teed complained that in some cases reporters have forced them to sit upon meetings of members of the Council and made public matters of what should, for a time at least, have been kept private.

In speaking on the same question City Attorney McFarland said he has been to a disadvantage in a number of instances as a result of reporters trying cases in the newspapers before he could take such cases into the courts.

The new section providing the Council, or other official bodies, may resolve into committees or an executive session for the consideration of matters of business, was therupon approved.

Comparatively few other changes were made in the charter, except such as would make it state more clearly the meaning fairly intended to be conveyed. At noon the meeting was adjourned to 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The reading of the proposed amended form of the charter was continued at the afternoon session. There was a disagreement in the matter of the schedule of salaries of charter officers, and, in order to facilitate an adjustment, a committee consisting of Councilmen Teed, Munson and Nickell and Messrs. T. D. Stimson, ex-Warden Worms and Kaspare Cohn was appointed to retire and recommend a schedule. In about fifteen minutes the committee presented a report recommending the following schedule of annual salaries, which schedule was adopted: Mayor, $3,000; members of City Council, $1,200; Clerk, $2,400; City Auditor, $2,400; City Treasurer, $1,800; City Engineer, $3,000; City Attorney, $3,000; Superintendent of Buildings, $1,800; Chief of Police, $2,400; Health Officer, $2,000.

The question as to the time at which the charter shall go into effect was laid over to the Council next morning, to which the form of charter as read fixes the time as that for the State and county election, in November.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

The Courts.

STILL AT WORK ON THE CRAIG JURY.

The work of selecting a jury to assist in the cause of trying the triple murderer, John Craig, was resumed in Department One yesterday morning in the presence of a large crowd of spectators, but, although the whole of the morning session was devoted to the task, one only, H. C. Eason, of the twenty men summoned on the special venire, was accepted, and another special venire being necessitated, the master was continued until 10 o'clock this morning.

THE WRIT DENIED.

Matthew Ries, the youth who was recently arrested by Detective Goodman at the request of the Chief of Police of Seattle, Wash., and for whom an officer is now en route from the North, was released before Judge Shaw yesterday afternoon and given his freedom on the condition that he remain in the custody of habeas corpus proceedings.

The application of Felix Clavare for a saloon license at No. 221 West 11th street was reported on by the Chief and was granted as was also the application of George Elschegle for a transfer of a saloon license at No. 268 South Los Angeles street from Fred Hoppe.

The application of M. M. Sigle & Co. for retail liquor license for their store now occupied by the company for the saloon license, stores at No. 221 West Fourth street, was granted on report of the Chief as was also the petition of Louis Degeorges for a restaurant liquor license at No. 644 New High street.

The report by Secretary McLean of the application, stated among other things that the forming of an opinion as to what was best to do in this case, was quite difficult, if the applicant is granted a restaurant liquor license in this case he will be likely to sell a good deal of liquor on Sundays as it is usually sold in a saloon on week days. If, on the other hand, the applicant is refused a license he will probably sell liquor "on the sly" anyway.

On motion the petition was denied.

The application of Hierholzer & Crone for saloon and restaurant liquor license at Nos. 119½ to 121 East Fifth street.

The application for a restaurant liquor license was granted but the application for a restaurant liquor license was denied.

The application of J. W. Henfrey for a saloon license at Main and Sichel streets was reported on and it was stated that a numerously signed protest was to be presented against granting the license asked for. The man who made such protest was the board commissioners Arnold and Bosbyshell were appointed a committee to investigate the matter.

The application referred to the chief was: Longren & Lawrence for a restaurant liquor license at Nos. 120 and 122 West street; Frank Grela for a transfer of a saloon license at No. 100 South Buena Vista street from Grisius & Cinco; of H. E. Amer for a restaurant liquor license at San Pedro street between York and Twenty-third streets (Old Gary House.)

The demands were approved.

Applications for appointments as special policemen, as received from the Sheriff's office for service at East 11th, Park 1, Chambers park, Frank Hutchins for service at Central (formerly Sixth street) park, and of Thomas McKinley for service at the Vienna Buffet, were all referred to the Chief.

An application of Horace M. Vance for appointment on the regular force was approved.

Chief Glass said he wished again to call the attention of the board to the terrible condition of the City Jail. There have for several days past been 150 prisoners confined there that could be decently housed in 50. In the chain-gang it has been necessary to use the rights to keep as many as fifty prisoners. The atmosphere there becomes so foul that it is cruel to any human being in it. The jail being of old construction there are no arrangements for heating, and it is so cold that scarcely enough blankets can be put on a person to keep him warm. The drainage is bad. There will without doubt soon be enough more prisoners there so that what to do with them would be only a matter of conjecture. The authorities cannot escape the fact that the jail is much too small for the size of the city, and that in the near future a new jail will probably have to be built, and it might as well be done now.

It was decided to have prepared a suitable resolution urging upon the City Council the pressing necessity of improved jail accommodation.

THE TOBOGGAN.

Positively the Last Week.

The pleasure-loving public of Los Angeles who have enjoyed this great sport for three months past will be sorry to learn that this week puts an end to this most agreeable of all sports. When the news spread yesterday that last night would end the fun, people crowded through the gates to enjoy their last ride, and never before in the history of the slide was it visited by so large and agreeable a crowd. Wanting to give everybody a chance to take the last ride on the finest slide ever built in the United States, management has decided to keep it running until next Sunday evening, but no longer. The gates will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Remember, this is positively the last week. Fare, 5 cents only.

Electric Oil Heaters.

There are no stoves on the market that approach these. They are the best made, the strongest heating, the most perfect workmanship, and every article giving off light, and the best and purest combustion.

Los Angeles National Bank vs. D. W. Colby et al. action to recover $1356.52 entered November 14, 1888.

Sophronia B. McGregor et al. vs. Kansas State Improvement Company et al. action to foreclose a mortgage for $10,910.40 on lot 27 of the Mullin tract at Pasadena.

The Police Commission.

CHIEF GLASS MAKES A STATEMENT ABOUT THE CITY JAIL.

The Police Commission met yesterday morning for the first time in two weeks. The members present were Morris, Arnold and Bosbyshell and Mayor Rowan.

The master of the application of Herman Markwaulder for a saloon license at No. 146 North Spring street was first taken up and caused quite a discussion. A number of signed petitions against the granting of the license was presented, and, as three of the original signers of the petition had withdrawn their names, the frontage fell considerably below the required two-thirds. On this statement of fact, Mr. Bosbyshell opposed granting the petition, at least favored postponing action until the full body was present. Mr. Arnold, however, moved to grant the petition, giving as an excuse that the applicant had once secured the necessary number of signatures and should have the benefit of it. Mr. Bosbyshell declined to second the motion, when the Mayor vacated the chair, calling Mr. Bosbyshell to preside. He then seconded Mr. Arnold's motion and the petition was granted.

The Chief reported for the month of October 411 convictions out of a total of 517 arrests. The fines and forfeitures in the Police Court amounted to $7,000.

John Rowan and Chief Glass was appointed to investigate the matter of payments into the police reward and pension fund, there being a question as to whether the special officers should be required to pay into the fund the same as regular officers.

The application of Felix Clavare for a saloon license at No. 221 West 11th street was reported on by the Chief and was granted as was also the application of George Elschegle for a transfer of a saloon license at No. 268 South Los Angeles street from Fred Hoppe.

The application of M. M. Sigle & Co. for retail liquor license for their store now occupied by the company for the saloon license, stores at No. 221 West Fourth street, was granted on report of the Chief as was also the petition of Louis Degeorges for a restaurant liquor license at No. 644 New High street.

The report by Secretary McLean of the application, stated among other things that the forming of an opinion as to what was best to do in this case, was quite difficult, if the applicant is granted a restaurant liquor license in this case he will be likely to sell a good deal of liquor on Sundays as it is usually sold in a saloon on week days. If, on the other hand, the applicant is refused a license he will probably sell liquor "on the sly" anyway.

On motion the petition was denied.

The application of Hierholzer & Crone for saloon and restaurant liquor license at Nos. 119½ to 121 East Fifth street.

The application for a restaurant liquor license was granted but the application for a restaurant liquor license was denied.

The application of J. W. Henfrey for a saloon license at Main and Sichel streets was reported on and it was stated that a numerously signed protest was to be presented against granting the license asked for.

In order to prevent his being detained without authority of law, it being shown, that a complaint charging Ries with being a fugitive from justice was on file in Justice Seaman's court, and that a warrant had been duly issued in accordance therewith, the commissioners appointed the warden and remanded the prisoner.

Ries was convicted of grand larceny in the Superior Court of Kings county, Wash., and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, but before the sentence could be executed, he fled from the State.

The City Engineer presented a map of Adobe street, between College and Bernard streets, showing the lines for an eighty-foot street, that being the original width of the street. The map was referred to the Board of Public Works.

The master of the appeal from the decision of the Street Superintendent in accepting work done on New Fourth street, between Lucas avenue and Fifth street, by D. F. Donegan was reported.

Mr. Donegan had put the proper amount of gravel on the street. The motion was accepted.

The City Attorney presented a report in reference to a stipulation in the case of W. T. Spillman, which report was, on motion, approved. The report said:

"In the case of W. T. Spillman vs. the City of Los Angeles, which was brought some time ago to quiet title against the City, the parties agreed to stipulate that the undeveloped water lying in the land in question and has the right to develop and use the same, subject to the qualifications hereinbefore mentioned."

"Second—but that the City of Los Angeles is the owner of all the waters of the Los Angeles River and also of all water forming a part of its tributaries, underground, undeveloped waters lying therein, except to such of said waters as form a part of its sources, feeders, springs, underground flow and subterranean streams of the Los Angeles River, or are tributaries thereto; and that as to all of such waters the City of Los Angeles is the sole owner."

"Fourth—that the right of said Spillman to develop and use the underground, undeveloped waters upon said land shall be limited to the right to develop and use only a much of said waters as do not constitute a part of the waters of feeders, springs, underground flow and subterranean streams of the Los Angeles River, or are tributaries thereto; and that as to all of such waters the City of Los Angeles is the sole owner."

"The stipulation has been agreed to by all parties to the contract at all points. It will be recited that the court at the trial of the cause I do not know that the city could obtain anything in the way of a judgment which it does not obtain by this stipulation

Those present extended congratulations to the happy pair. Mrs. de Hay was dressed in a handsome gown of moire silk. Refreshments were then served and enjoyed. The remainder of the evening was passed in conversation, listening to the organ and admiring the many beautiful presents which had been received. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Burnham, Mmes. R. R. Hersey, C. O. Rasey and J. W. Pfister, Misses Clara Violet and Mary Elizabeth, Evelyn Foster, and Messrs. Rev. D. D. Hill, P. A. Collins, Guy Porter and George W. de Hay.

A CRYSTAL WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. de Hay celebrated their crystal wedding at their residence, No. 260 South Pasadena avenue, Monday evening, the 13th inst. The house was prettily decorated with ferns, roses and crysanthemums. The music furnished by Miss May Barnhard at the piano and P. A. Colihia with the violin was much enjoyed until 9 o'clock, when to the sound of the wedding march, their two children, Ned and Nedra, came down, followed by Mr. and Mrs. de Hay. They proceeded to the center of the room, where, standing beneath a beautiful floral marriage bell, they again took the vows of the marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. D. Hill of Los Angeles. After the ceremony, the bride and groom present extended congratulations to the happy pair. Mrs. de Hay was dressed in a handsome gown of moire silk. Refreshments were then served and enjoyed. The remainder of the evening was passed in conversation, listening to the organ and admiring the many beautiful presents which had been received. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Burnham, Mmes. R. R. Hersey, C. O. Rasey and J. W. Pfister, Misses Clara Violet and Mary Elizabeth, Evelyn Foster, and Messrs. Rev. D. D. Hill, P. A. Collins, Guy Porter and George W. de Hay.

A LITTLE COLLISION.

A little before 1 o'clock today a loaded freight car which was being switched on the Santa Fe near the passenger station, got away from the train hands by reason of a broken brake chain, and started down the steep grade toward Raymond. An other freight train, drawn by a big engine, No. 587, was waiting on the main track and the runaway car crashed into it. The engineer and fireman saw the danger and got away. The car crashed into the front of the locomotive with such force as to snap the pilot and the headlight, but did not cripple its efficiency, but did not stop it.

The damage was not great though the danger for a time was ominous.

ORANGE COUNTY.

AN IMPORTANT LAWSUIT BEGUN AT SANTA ANA.

The Official Canvass of the Vote is Completed—A Small Blaze at Tustin—Notes and Persons.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 13.—(Special Correspondence.) An important lawsuit was begun in the Superior Court of Orange county today. It is entitled Jacob Yaeger vs. The Southern California Railway Company, and is a suit for $30,000 damages for injury alleged to have been received March 29, 1882, in a collision between two trains at Orange. Mr. Yaeger was a passenger in the south-bound train and was quite badly shaken up, receiving injuries from which he alleges he will not, in all probability, get over during his lifetime.

The case was called this (Tuesday) morning, and the formal trial taken up in the afternoon. Jacob Yaeger was the first witness in the afternoon that it looked as if the trial would be won by the defense. The suit was quickly given over, and neighbors came to the rescue in time to gain control of the flames. The damage to the property can be covered by a few hundred dollars.

ANNUIVERSARY SURPRISE.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 13.—(Special Correspondence.) A pleasant surprise was given to the Superior Court of Orange county today. A drawing was discovered in one of the front windows of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sanborn just in time to save the house.

The flames originated in a bureau drawer in some unaccountable manner, and the flames had spread so that it looked as if the residence would be wholly destroyed. The alarm was quickly given, and neighbors came to the rescue in time to gain control of the flames. The damage to the property can be covered by a few hundred dollars.

ANNUIVERSARY SURPRISE.

The Good Fellows of this city and the Rebekahs gave Granville Spurgeon a very pleasant surprise Monday evening at his residence on North Main street, the occasion being the eighteenth marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon. About sixty or seventy ladies and gentlemen were present, and enjoyed the singing of the choir, a solo concert, general good time.

Two Burglars Captured with All Their Tools.

George W. Johnson and his partner, Joe Brown, were caught by Officers Steele and Pauling while acting in a suspicious manner near the Union Ice Works and, upon being searched were found to be supplied with burglars' tools of the safe-cracking kind. The officers had watched the suspects for a long time and, upon learning that he had designs upon the Union Ice Company's safe, promptly arrested them. The first man arrested, Johnson, was four feet nine and three-quarters inches tall, weighing 180 pounds, and was used for breaking into safe doors, a quantity of black powder in a paper, and a small bottle containing quicksilver, besides a brass tube in the shape of a loaded .44 calibre rifle cartridge, covered at the end by a cap. This tube was used to hold a bullet for dry-shots, though, upon examination, it was found to contain a ball of opium.

Yesterday, when examined by Justice Seaman, this man asserted his innocence of any intention of robbing safes, but his partner, Joe Brown, who is also a prisoner, told the whole story to the Officers, and the two men were sentenced to a fine old bird, who had come here to spend the winter on the contents of the local merchants' safes.

The man will be heard again, and in the meantime, will remain locked up for safe-keeping.

The Fire Commission will meet this morning.

THE EAST SIDE.

An Insane Woman Escapes from the Hospital.

A rumor was started Monday to the effect that a crazy woman had escaped from the County Hospital and was running loose on the East Side. Officer Romans, upon returning from across the river, where he had been as a witness in the Craig murder trial, learned of the rumors and started out to locate the supposed dangerous lunatic. He found that she had boarded a west-bound cable car telling the conductor a sad story about being lost and wishing to go to the hospital. She had prevailed upon the conductor to take her up town. Inquiry at the hospital last evening elicited the fact that she had not yet returned. Her name is Mary Johnson, and she is about 70 years old, not at all dangerous, but merely demented. She was not confined to any ward, but was allowed the freedom of the place and it is supposed that she wandered off far away, and became bewildered was unable to find her way back.

A party of local wheelmen went out to the park Sunday afternoon and report a good time. They rode to the foot of the "old trail" where they left their wheels and climbed to the top, the latter part of the program occupying two hours and twelve minutes. After a hearty dinner all started for home, arriving without mishap a little after 6 p. m. Those who went were: C. E. White, H. Wunch, R. W. Gilham, and Ed Davidson.

The Smith-Ling Battery Case.

The case of R. A. Ling vs. Tom Smith came up before Justice Austin again at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and the whole day was spent wrangling over jurors.

At 4:35 in the afternoon the last man of the twelve was accepted, and the first witness, R. A. Ling, was called. He claimed innocence of giving cause for attack, and stated that he thought the blow was struck him from behind. He described the locality in front of the Reception saloon, and told other circumstances. Vigorous cross-examination by A. B. Hotchkiss, Esq., for the defense, failed to shake his testimony.

The case will be continued this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

THIS CURIOUS THING

Is a Sweat Gland. Its mouth is called a PORE. There are 7,000,000 in the human skin.

Through them are discharged many impurities. To close them means death.

Sluggish or clogged pores mean yellow, mottled skin, pimples, blotches, eczema. The blood becomes impure. Hence serious blood humors.
